Scripture reading:

- Matthew 13:1-15
- Matthew 14-19
- Acts 4:1-21
- John 15:1-4

Along the Path, being good soil, growing, and bearing fruit.

Full of Thanksgiving

What are you thankful for in this month of Thanksgiving? As Pastor Chad talks about vines, branches, and fruit, I am thankful we have a Master Gardener Who will help us grow and cultivate the good fruit in our lives. We cannot bear fruit apart from God (John 15:4) and remaining in Him means reading His Word and doing what it says. We have to let Him work, and some branches and weeds will need to go. We can't keep holding on to those sins that are dragging us down. They have to be thrown in the fire, and, unfortunately with some sins, we have to do that daily. Did you think of something immediately when you read that? Let it go. As Pastor Chad said, "The Gardener is not content with sick things." He will clean and prune, and, while it may not be a pleasant process, we can be assured it is imperative and good. Even better news is that God never tires of us asking for help. We can ask God every day to help us be better than we were the day before. He will always answer when we ask with open and seeking hearts.
